Farewell to Mr. And Mrs. Kydd.

On Wednesday evening a reception to Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Kydd was held in Campbell's Hall, prior to their departure from town after a residence of three years here. There was a large attendance for the occasion and an extremely pleasant evening resulted. Cards and other games were indulged in, one of the features of which was the superiority displayed by the ladies in "Bean Bag," at which they beat the men badly, despite baseball tactics on the part of the latter. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kydd were presented with handsome leather hand bags as a tangible token of the esteem in which they were held by the community. J. N. Beaubier and C. A. Wright making the presentation. Mr. Beaubier expressed the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Kydd have been, and will be held in Champion and vicinity, and the good wishes that will follow them. Both recipients replied very feelingly to the presentation.

Mr. Kydd leaves for Battle Creek, Mich., where he will endeavor to recover his lost health, while Mrs. Kydd will spend the winter in Vancouver.

The Chronicle joins in expressing regret at the loss of such estimable citizens, and in the general hope that Mr. Kydd will quickly be restored to health.

Chris, Jacobson left during the week with Norway as an objective, where he will visit his parents. The trip is being made via United States waters, where he has brothers. Chris will be missed in curling circles, where he had made great strides in regard to the influence of the broom on the shooting.

Sometime on Saturday night Mrs. R. Hummel's purse was taken from the house, the intruder leaving no clues as to his or her identity. After an anxious period, extending until Monday noon, the discovery that Mrs. Hummel had taken the purse herself, and by mistake left it in the drug store solved one of the biggest burglary mysteries in Champion has furnished for a long time.

THURSDAY, Dec. 2, 1920.

The financial statement of the village of Champion, which appeared in a recent issue, could not fail to be eminently satisfactory to the ratepayers in general. The debenture debt is almost eliminated and would not now be a deterring factor in any way to further proposed improvements involving sums outside current revenue. The situation with regard to outstanding taxes is eminently satisfactory, a fact largely due to the provisions of the new tax recovery act. With many things financial not exactly satisfactory, the splendid showing of the Village is indeed cause for congratulation.

The result of the election in East Elgin, while a splendid success for the farmers, also serves to emphasize the fact that the opposition to the government is badly split up. The farmers' candidate won by nearly 300 majority, but the vote cast against the government candidate was in the neighborhood of 2,000 larger than was polled for him.

DUMPING AND NO DUMPING.

(Manitoba Free Press).
Senator Harding, President-elect, has declared that the industries of the United States must be protected from the heavy importations likely to come from countries that are debtor to her in their effort to pay off their debts. On the other hand, he looks for an expansion of American foreign trade with the help of the new merchant marine. That is to say, while "dumping" is not good for the United States it is all right for other countries where the United States can sell its goods for it will have to sell at prices lower than those ruling in the United States in order to compete with those debtor countries whose goods it would exclude because of their low price.

How Hail Insurance Works

Hail insurance is practically only a term in Eastern Canada, but in the West it signifies something of vital importance. Numerous provinces as Municipal Hail Insurance Acts are in force in each of the Prairie Provinces. These Acts provide a system of mutual insurance under which rural municipalities can operate to tax each other for the granting of compensation to individuals for losses incurred by hail, which are often very serious. How the system works out and the extent to which it operates in Saskatchewan and Alberta are set forth in the November number of The Agricultural Gazette of Canada. Each claimant is entitled to receive not more than five cents per acre for every one per cent of damage from hail he has sustained. To some it may not appear a very liberal provision, but when it is understood that the number of claims filed in 1919 in Saskatchewan was 7,838 and that the total indemnity paid amounted to $1,017,770 a different view will obtain. For one storm alone that occurred in July of the year referred to claims amounting to 1,100,000 were settled. In Alberta the total losses for the same year were $200,000 against a value of $12,000,000 insured. Besides the system under Government supervision there are 36 companies in Saskatchewan that accept hail insurance and that paid out $1,720,000 in 1919 for losses caused by hail.

On the 27th, of November, 800 acres of the farm belonging to R. C. Cron, situated 18 miles east of Barons, was sold to G. A. Nielson and W. H. Philpott. Price $28.00 per acre. The negotiation was made by L. J. Adams, the old cock that sells the earth.

The G. R. W. I. held a whist drive and dance at the general school on the 10th of Nov. An account of the cold weather the crowd was not as large as on the week following, but $11.75 net was realized.

On the 18th a jolly time was reported by a large gathering. Mrs. Geo. Orr and E. F. Crawford were the winners while Mrs. F. J. Beingsesser and Ed. Zang received consolation. Ed thought his prize looked so tempting that it was part of a chicken and nearly choked on raw carrot before found out his mistake. The net proceeds amounted to $17.55.

The annual meeting of the G. R. Institute will take place at Mrs. M. Engler's Dec. 2nd at one o'clock p.m. Every member should make an effort to be present, not only to hear the years report but to ensure a successful beginning for the New Year.

The Cabinet and Parliament

In order to arrive at a clear understanding of forms and functions of government in Canada it is first of all necessary to have a correct appreciation of the relation which the Cabinet of Ministers has to Parliament. It is a common error for people to call upon the Cabinet, or Government, as it is popularly termed, to do certain things and take certain action which it has no power to do and which power rests exclusively with Parliament itself. It will perhaps lead to a clearer conception of the functions of the Cabinet, or Government, if it is likened to a board of directors of a Company with Parliament as representing the whole body of shareholders. All the rights, privileges and powers of a Joint Stock Company are conferred upon the shareholders. These shareholders elect from among their own number a board of directors to whom is entrusted the management and administration of the Company's business. The directors make rules and regulations for the management of the business, choose the employees, and constitute the active directing head of the business. They make recommendations and reports to the shareholders, and so long as they enjoy the confidence and support of a majority of the shareholders they govern and direct the Company's affairs. But once the directors lose the confidence and support of the shareholders, they are replaced by others possessing that confidence and support.

It will be seen, therefore, that the directors can only exercise such powers as have been conferred upon them by the shareholders. In other words, the directors are but a committee of the shareholders. So, too, is the Cabinet merely an executive and administrative committee of Parliament, and it is restricted to the exercise of such powers as Parliament has delegated to and conferred upon it. Parliament alone can pass laws; the Cabinet cannot do so. Hence Governments are frequently asked to introduce bills and delegations to do things which they cannot do because the Act passed by Parliament do not authorize them to do so. The Cabinet has the power to make regulations for the proper carrying out and administration of Acts passed by Parliament and to issue Orders-in-Council under those Acts, but it cannot vary the provisions of the Act nor go beyond the powers conferred by the Act. The only way in which the Cabinet is restricted in the expenditure of money is by the amount voted by Parliament, except in cases of emergency arising when Parliament is not in session. In such cases a special warrant of the Governor-in-Council must be issued to cover such unforeseen expenditures, and immediately upon the resuming of Parliament by session, such expenditures must be reported to and approved by it. If such approval is refused, the Government must resign. In like manner, should an amount in excess of any appropriation made by Parliament be expended, a supplementary estimate must be obtained from Parliament to cover such expenditure.

Acting as the executive and administrative committee of Parliament, the Cabinet Ministers constitute the advisers of the Crown, and the Ministers are responsible to Parliament for all such advice tendered. If the advice is bad, the Ministers, not the Crown, must suffer the consequences. Furthermore, the Crown is precluded from accepting advice from any other source. Should such advice be rendered, it is the duty of the Crown to submit it to the Prime Minister as head of the Government, and the Government, not the Crown, is responsible for its final acceptance or rejection. What is here outlined in regard to the Dominion Government and Parliament applies in like manner to the Provincial Governments and the Legislative Assemblies.

The analogy drawn above between the board of directors of a Company and the shareholders on the one hand, and the Cabinet and Parliament on the other, is not absolutely correct, because whereas in Company Management the shareholders possess all the power, Parliament is but representative of the people who, in the last analysis, are the shareholders of Canada and the people are, therefore, the final court of appeal in all matters of government. However, the people delegate their powers to their representatives in Parliament and, therefore, to all intents and purposes, the analogy holds good.

In the next article in this series consideration will be given to the division of authority between the Dominion and the Provinces, a division which frequently the cause of confusion and misunderstanding among Provincial Governments and Legislatures for action in regard to matters over which they have no control but which come within the sole jurisdiction of the Federal authority.

Eggs and Civilization

The Egg Contains the Vital Principle Of Growth of the Body.

The world has grown better since the discovery of the egg and the growth of civilization has kept pace with the growth of the egg-eating habit—a contention which, facts, though their exact correlation may not be capable of demonstration. But from the facts of the case we may be warranted in concluding that a still greater consumption of hen's eggs would not hinder the coming of a more civilized world. Why should not the facts be concluded with the egg contains the vital principle of growth of the body and also a substance that nourishes the brain—an article of food that is responsible for both body growth and mental quickening? Why should we not eat more eggs and look for a higher civilization?—James Bryden.

For Protection of Lake Shipping

Great Lakes Are Now to Have Wireless Compass Depots.

Wireless compass stations, similar to those which have been in successful operation on the North Atlantic coast for more than a year, are to be installed along the Great Lakes. These stations, operated by the U.S. Navy Department, enable the operators to give ships help in a few hours positions within a narrow radius of accuracy.

Fog on the upper lake has claimed one freighter and 30 lives as victims this year, and the record of previous years shows a heavy toll of shipping. Success of the system on the Atlantic coast led to recent installation on the Pacific and now, it is announced, the inland waters will be similarly protected.

Wheat Production in France

Is Running Canada Close Second in Wheat Crop This Year.

This year's wheat crop in France, according to official figures, will compare favorably with that of Canada, and will show a heavy increase of last year. For 1920 the estimated wheat crop of the two countries are: France, 232,29,480 bushels; Canada, 209,088,000 bushels. The yield per acre in France is 19.1 bushels as compared with 16.3 bushels in Canada. Last year's wheat crop in France was 182,488,348 bushels, the average under cultivation being 11,509,275, in comparison with this year's average of 12,135,850. Fewer Divorces in Paris.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little one she would not be without them. They are the ideal home remedy for the baby, being guaranteed to be absolutely free from opiates or other harmful drugs. They are a gentle but thorough laxative and have been proved of the greatest aid in cases of constipation, indigestion, colic, colds and eruptive fevers. They would strongly recommend every mother to keep a box in the house. The Tablets are sold by medicine men and by mail at 25 cents each from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Alberta Cattle Winter in Okanagan.

An interesting experiment will be conducted at the Experimental Farm in the Okanagan with 50 head of young cattle, which have been brought from Calgary, ranches for winter feeding and will be fitted for market by spring. In the feeding of these cattle a test will be made of the comparative value of sounder and corn silage; half will be fed with sounders and the other half with corn. The relative building values of these foods will therefore be determined.

Imperial Conference Has Been Postponed

Lloyd George Says Dominions Have Requested Delay.

Premier Lloyd George stated in the British House of Commons that it was felt that public opinion in the Empire had not yet had time to give adequate consideration to the question of the readjustment of the constitutional relationship of the component parts of the Empire, recommended by the Imperial Conference of 1917, which would have the constitutional conference to meet with any advantage next year. He hoped it would be possible for such a conference to be held in 1922. It was at the desire of the dominions the Prime Minister stated, that this conference had been postponed.

Health in Humor.

Possibly there are doctors with a depressing manner, but we fancy they are exceptional cases, and most people who have ever lain on a sick bed will gratefully recognize what they owe to the brightness and hope their medical attendant has brought with him. The pity is that other physicians and other patients do not learn from the doctor the health-giving qualities of cheerfulness. McCULLOUGH BROS.

General Merchants

CHAMPION & CALGARY

CHAMPION, DEC. 1, 1920.

Dear Sir:

After careful consideration we have decided to put our business on a cash basis. Do not accept this as a personal affront, as it applies to all.

You, as a business man, no doubt know that we are at this time passing through what is probably the most crucial period in the history of merchandising.

We believe from our observations of the past thirty days that, if we were in a position to go to our jobbers with the cash we could get goods pretty much at our own prices and this, together with taking advantage of cash discounts, saving in book-keeping and loss of accounts, which we must allow for on the credit basis, will result in big savings in our cost and these we intend to pass on to you by substantial discounts to take effect from the above date.

In order to avoid the necessity of issuing cheques at the time of each individual purchase we would suggest, for your convenience, that you carry, a deposit account, that is to say, you give us a cheque for say your estimated weekly or monthly requirements.

This will be placed to your credit and purchases will be deducted from time to time until same is exhausted. ALL BALANCES WILL BE RETURNABLE ON DEMAND. This system is in vogue in many of the largest retail stores to-day and is meeting with the general support of the public. However, this is optional with you.

Thanking you for past favours and trusting that "CASH BUYING" will work out to our mutual benefit and satisfaction, we remain

Yours very truly,
